

forth. Try it once.

McHenry Tribune: The Hammer-Condry Co., of Cooperstown, and H. S. Halverson, of our city, have purchased the interest of Barnes Brothers, of Minneapolis, who have been the men behind the First National bank of McHenry for several years past. The transfer gives the new purchasers controlling interest. The First National is now a home institution and backed by men who have been singularly successful in their own affairs and are applying to the interests of the bank and its clients the business acumen gained in their various capacities as men who have made good financially. The following named have been elected as officers: H. S. Halverson, president; B. C. Phipps, vice-president, and G. P. Cross, Jr., cashier.