

The work of planting trees in the Park at Peking is now completed, and we now have the care of the park on our hands. The park is very nicely laid out and with favorable weather and proper care, with the excellent soil that we have for it, we should have no difficulty in getting a nice corner to feast our eyes on in the future.

One of the best evidences of a ris-