

Louis Ruud and Tollef Tweed tried to prove that two men could occupy the same space at the same time last Saturday evening, on the grade north of town. As a result Louis took Tollef home in his combination jitney and left the Tweed car in the ditch till Sunday morning.