

spring.

A small blaze, resulting from an overheated stove at the Osmund Kjeltweet home last Friday, called out the fire department, but before they reached the scene, Sam Storkson, who lives next door, had the blaze extinguished. Mrs. Kjeltweet was canning fruit at the time and in the excitement she stuck her hand in the sauce, scalding it severely.

A company of ladies met at the