

MINOR ELLINGSON MARRIED

The following article was taken from the Webster, S. D., paper concerning the marriage of Minor Ellingson, of Sharon:

"The many friends of Miss Edna Bittinger and M. E. Ellingson, two instructors of the Webster high school, were surprised to learn Monday that the couple had been married. The story of the wedding gradually came to light and revealed the fact that this couple in company with Mr. Brunner and Miss Oss had gone to Aberdeen on Saturday where the ceremony was performed. They returned to Webster Sunday night and were in their school rooms Monday morning.

The happy couple have won the regard of all Webster during their residence in our city and have the best wishes of both the citizens of Webster and the pupils of the school.

The scholars of the school, taking advantage of the unusual opportunity, called at the Karpen home Monday evening where the couple are rooming, and escorting Mr. Ellingson from the house placed him on a large truck loaded with students and paraded the main streets of the city amid the cheers of hundreds of young folks. After several rounds through the streets the crowd was invited to the Candy Kitchen where Mr. Ellingson ordered the treats, and he was allowed to return home."
