

OLSGARD-JOHNSON

On Thursday, October 5th, occurred the marriage of Miss Lillian Ols-gard to Mr. Herbert Johnson, of Kloten. The ceremony was per-formed at the farm parsonage of Rev. H. O. Bach, who officiated as clergyman.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of white Canton Crepe, and was at-tended by her sister, Miss Thinka Ols-gard, who also wore white. The groom was attended by his friend, Mr. Edwin Settivig.

The bride is well known here hav-ing grown to womanhood near town and attended the Binford schools. She is the eldest daughter of Mrs. Bertha Ols-gard. The groom is a suc-cessful farmer of the Kloten neigh-borhood where the young newlyweds plan to make their home.

The Times with others wishes the newlyweds a most prosperous and happy future.

ANN LITTLE WINS RACE

Chain Lightning, the wonder horse of the year, was ridden to victory in the Midvale Handicap today by Peggy Pomeroy, who by her sensa-tional and unexpected entry into the race at the last moment, suc-ceeded in rehabilitating the family fortunes.

Learning that Red Rollins, the jockey who was scheduled to ride Chain Lightning, had arranged to throw the race, she took his place at the last moment and brought the horse under the wire by the closest margin, but nevertheless close enuff to assure her father of saving all he had risked on the Midvale Clas-sic.

This sensational race, which is
