

The pupils of the Hope School rendered a very entertaining program at the hall Monday evening in commemoration of the birthday of our country's father, Washington. The old stories about Washington and his inability to tell a lie were dressed over and given in a very pleasing and entertaining form. While the debators did not discuss the question as stated, they are to be commended for their appearance and delivery on the stage.