

---

The lower room of the school is without a teacher, Miss Mary Hogue having been compelled on account of ill health to resign her position, and the school board not having been able as yet to secure another in her place.

---