

The school bell rang long and loud last Monday morning calling the little folks together for the first time since last spring. A large number responded to the call and everything is moving along smoothly.

The sale of a house on 11th is almost