

the gain.

Last Saturday Jess Bolin, age 12 years, shot Clark Bogardus age 16, in the neck, with a 32 calibre revolver. Another case of "didn't know it was loaded." Bogardus walked over two miles after he was shot, to W. A. Cochrane's. The ball has not been extracted, and the young man seems to regard the affair as a joke, not suffering much if any, inconvenience.
