

—We learn that J. P. Burling, of Broadlawn, was attacked one day last week by a vicious horse, and had his side and one arm badly lacerated by the beast. It got him down and would have killed him but for the timely arrival of neighbors, who rescued him from his terrible plight.