George King met with a sad misfortune Tuesday. He was burning around some straw after plowing a firebreake but the fire got away from him and destroyed about 70 tons of good hay belong. ing to C. E. Davie. George's friends sympathize with him-but that don't pay for the hay and hard work.