

Edward Dodd a prosperous farmer living west of town, met with a serious and painful accident Tuesday. He was plowing on a side hill, with a gang, when a rock throwed the plow out, allowing the horses to trot down hill, while so doing, Mr. Dodd was thrown in the air from the spring seat, and alighted upon one of the iron levers, which penetrated the rectum about six inches. Dr. Philip is attending him and under the circumstances is doing as well as can be expected.
