

The storms of this winter have been so frequent and bad, that at times the Fuller boys were unable to enter the barn through the doors, and were obliged to cut a hole in roof and slide down on the iron rods. The stock think it a circus. The boys are the clowns and they the menagerie.

ROMEO AND JULIET.

---