

The twin cities of North Dakota, Gilbert and Finley, are booming they tell us. Gilbert has secured the postoffice, while the railroad station is Finley. Mrs. C. K. Norcott is postmistress. Improvements in both towns continue. The depot and two elevators are about completed. Lumber yard, more livery barns, wood and coal yards, etc., are among the latest.