

HOPE IN 1882.

C. H. Williams, near Colgate, brought in some fine samples of growing crops, on Wednesday last. The corn measured seven feet high, oats 52 inches, ready to cut next week. Wheat 50 inches, will be ready to cut in two weeks—he had turnips weighing six pounds. How is that for high? North Dakota is all right—Aug. 11.

From the numerous excellent gardens, we judge that North Dakota soil is just the kind for such sass.

D. P. Baldwin is preparing to erect a fine residence, as is also H. L. Smith. The building boom has only begun.

Hope is soon to have a bank.

A regular old fashioned down east shooting party is being arranged for, in the near future.

Harvest is in full blast in the Red River Valley.

Hope is badly in need of a good harness shop.

Dr. G. L. Virgo has located in Hope.

Harvest is near at hand.—Aug. 25.

C. J. Paul and wife are expected here next week.

A fine piano will be placed in the Hope House soon.

Work on the new depot is booming.

Word from Washington indicates a daily mail soon.

Charley and Frank Ward were out hunting again last Saturday—65 ducks for dinner at the Hope House.

The N. P. has commenced track laying on the Mayville branch.

S. S. Small has moved his family to Hope.

Al Gilman has commenced threshing with his new machine—Aug 25.

Cargill & McMillen are arranging to build a large elevator.

Dr. Virgo will open a drug store soon.

R. W. Berry reports a large yield of oats.

Hope wants a furniture store.

H. H. Wasem, our new merchant, is moving into his store on Third street. He comes over from Mardell.

L. A. Jacobson, of the American Express Co., between Breckenridge and Portland one of the favorites of the road, has been offered the position of grain buyer at Hope. Mr. Jacobson is quite popular along the line, and his acceptance of the place is much desired.

Col. R. F. Pickert, the New York capitalist, has bought the Johnson farm, and contemplates the erection of a paper mill in Hope.