

The Pioneer is grieved to announce the fact that Miss Geneva King has an attack of diphtheria, in a mild form. Dr. Stephenson is in charge, and has quarantined the house, and also stopped the primary department of the public school, in which Miss Lorena is teaching. The physicians feel confident of holding the dread disease in check, having taken it in hand early.