

Master James McMahon met with a painful accident the other day. — He struck his head against a pailful of scalding hot water in the hands of some of the folks. The water spilling over the back of his head and down his back. Dr. Philip is attending, and we all hope for the best. The scald is a bad one, but by careful attention he will be all right soon; although he may be bald headed before his father—even if he is somewhat younger,
