

Thursday last Nels Peterson, a young man working for Knute Thompeon, fell from a load of hay sustaining a bad fracture of the forearm near the wrist. Dr. Montgomery dressed the fracture, and he is now getting along nicely.