

At noon today editor Allen was resting only fairly well. The pains in the head, caused from the blow behind the ear, were not quite so severe, but inflammation has set in the right eye which is very sore from another blow, and Dr. Philip has fear of serious results. He hopes however, to keep it under control.