

MRS. BRYON E. BERLIN.

Wimbledon News—This community was greatly shocked Sunday morning by the announcement that Mrs. B. E. Berlin was dead. Mrs. Berlin retired Saturday night, after a busy day, in her usual good health and rested very comfortably. She arose early Sunday morning and went into the garden to see if there had been a frost as it was quite cold. She returned to the house in a short time and talked with Mr. Berlin who was not up yet, for an hour or more and seemed in the best of spirits, and joked with her husband about "getting up and paying for his lodging." Mr. Berlin noticed that she talked a little thick and spoke to her about it, but she said that it would be all right in a short time and passed into the kitchen to get a cup of hot water and as she was sitting down in a chair, fell over and lived only about 30 minutes, not having regained consciousness.

Dr Caldwell and the members of the family were immediately called, but before they could reach her bedside she had passed away. Mrs. Berlin was a devoted mother and wife and beloved by all those who knew her and her sunny disposition and lovably character will long be remembered in the community.
