

W. D. Marsh, a well known resident of Cooperstown, died Friday night. Mr. Marsh was one of the early residents of that city, most of the time employed as grain buyer for one of the elevator companies.