

The five-year old son of H. N. Johnson, who lives about two miles north of Montpelier, died early Tuesday morning of infantile paralysis, after an illness of less than two days.