

What might have been a serious accident happened to Rollef Berg while out riding with the auto on Sunday. They had been out to Samuel Berg's when it began to rain and when they were coming home the road was rather slippery and in some way the machine tipped up on its side, tipping the occupants out in the mud. Luckily they were running slowly when the accident happened and no one was hurt and the machine was not damaged.