

Taking advantage of the fog hanging over the penitentiary grounds Monday morning at 7 o'clock, Sohn Brandt, sentenced from Williams county for grand larceny, escaped from the guards and to a late late hour has not been heard from. Guards and citizens are scouring the country. Brandt was working in the penitentiary garden digging potatoes, when he was missed. The fog was so heavy it was impossible to see over a few feet, and the guards had no clue as to the direction taken.

---