

J. B. Carlson left Sunday evening for Pincher City, Alberta, where he will go into the jewelry business and also look after his land in that vicinity which he recently purchased. Mr. Carlson made a success of his business here but owing to the greater opportunities in a new country decided to try his luck in King Edward's Realm.