

Mrs. James H. Cooper left for Williston Tuesday evening to join her husband who recently engaged in the banking business at that point. They have leased their farms in this vicinity and will soon move their household goods to Williston and make it their future home. Mr. and Mrs. Cooper have made a large number of friends during their six years' residence here who regret their departure, but who, like true friends, wish them well in their new location.