

What might have been a fatal accident happened on Tuesday of this week to Mrs. Thomas Crawford and the children and her sister, Miss Belle Walker. They went out to the hay field with dinner for the men folks, driving a horse hitched to a buggy. When they started to go back to the house the horse began to run and kick and soon upset the buggy tipping the occupants out on the ground. In the mix up Mrs. Crawford had her ankle thrown out of joint and some of the small bones misplaced but Miss Walker and the children escaped uninjured. The horse is one they had been in the habit of driving and was supposed to be as gentle as a lamb but on this occasion he showed them a lively time for a while and it is almost a miracle how they escaped without serious injury.
