

E. J. Hancock has disposed of his barber business to R. W. Hewitt of Carrington and he has taken possession. Mr. Hancock has conducted the business for a number of years but now desires to get out in the open air and has taken a homestead in sunny southern Alberta where the sun shines 365 days during the year and the air is pure and bracing. He has always enjoyed a nice trade and has conducted a first class shop and he wishes to thank the people at this time for their patronage and to recommend to them Mr. Hewitt who is a good workman and a gentleman. Mr. Hancock expects to leave the latter part of the week for his homestead to make some improvements but will not move there before spring.
