

John Hendrickson left last evening for his old home in Sweden to spend a couple of months with his father and mother. It is four years since he crossed the water to visit his home and scenes of his boyhood and he says about the only attraction for him there now is his parents. He will return again about March 1st.