

A. A. Hoffman's team took a little spin around town on Saturday just to amuse themselves. Mr. Hoffman left them untied while he went into his house and they evidently thought that as there was nothing in sight to do they would take a little run. No damage was done.

---

---