

Kensal Correspondence

Kensal, N. D., April 22—Seeding is now the order of the day, the ground is in fine condition and considerable has been put in.

P. M. Christianson, our photographer, has moved back on his farm and will try farming again.

Contractor Joe Laqua has begun work on the cement block building he is to erect for Messrs. Bredahl & Radke.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Shockley have returned from the sojourn in sunny California.

Monday last Mrs. F. A. Russell died after a lingering illness of several weeks. Mr. Russell and family went to Seattle early last winter to spend the winter there and while there Mrs. Russell was stricken. An operation failed to relieve her and at her request she was brought back home to Kensal, but failed to rally. She leaves a husband and three children to mourn her loss. The interment took place at Wahpeton, their former home, on Wednesday.

Sam White, buyer for the Woodworth elevator, and family have gone on a vacation and will visit friends and relatives in Oregon, expecting to be gone until about August.

In the minds of many Anton Pederson was a confirmed old bachelor, but on April 11 he took a change of venue before Judge Lemert of Carrington and brought Mrs. Pederson, nee Jacobson, home with him. Nearly 200 guests gathered on their return to celebrate the event.
