

Miss Frances Sluga had a narrow escape from being seriously burned on Sunday morning. She is stopping at the Woodward farm and had used kerosene in starting the fire and some of it went into the ash pan and later when she shook down some coals the kerosene exploded and she was considerably burned about the head and face. It was a narrow escape.