

A deal was consummated last week whereby the meat market changed hands, Messrs. Samuel and John Syvertson being the new proprietors. C. M. Kribbs, the former owner, acquired a quarter section of land in the deal and he will hereafter devote his time looking after his meat market in Wimbledon and crying auction sales. The new firm will be run under the head of Syverteon Bros. and every effort will be put forth to keep the business up to the high standard maintained by Mr. Kribbs. J. W. Skinner, the present manager, will remain in charge for some time at least and the patrons of the meat market can rest assured that they will receive the best obtainable.
