

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brady celebrated their 20th wedding anniversary on December 16th by giving a wedding supper to about fifty of their friends. Mr. and Mrs. Brady are old timers in this part of the country and the numerous presents which were showered upon them on this occasion is a good indication of the high esteem in which they are held by their friends. It would make a long list if we were to enumerate all of the presents here but there were a lot of useful and costly articles among the number.