

Lem Hancock left on Monday morning for his home at Kansas City, Mo., after having assisted his brother Ed in the barber shop during the fall rush. Lem is not altogether in love with a North Dakota winter and besides there is more attraction for him at home now that he is a married man.