

Kensal Items

Journal, Nov. 14—A. D. Horne is very sick with pneumonia.

Ed Horne left Monday night for British Columbia where he will locate for the winter.

E. B. Wolff has purchased the store and stock of merchandise from the Farmers' Supply Co.

The ladies of the Royal Neighbors surprised Mrs. J. S. Tufford on her birthday, Nov. 13, and presented her with some glass dishes.

The grand opening ball given by the Kensal Drug Co. last Friday night was a grand success. About sixty couple danced until nearly daylight. Jud Williams, Clarence Isaacod acted as hosts and the Minot orchestra furnished the music.

The hard-times ball netted the D. A. Y. about $75.00. Everybody who was dressed up was fined, and pockets were searched for any bits of stray jewelry or white handk'fs and fines assessed when anything was found that looked like wealth. There was all kinds of fun, and some looked like John D. Rockefeller trying to dodge the tax collector. Supper followed but that part of the program didn't look like hard times.
