

Frank Layne, who has been employed at the Waldorf confectionery for the past month, left for Wimbledon Saturday where he will engage in business having bought out a confectionery store at that place. His many friends here wish him success.

---