

Poles and other material has arrived for the rural telephone lines which the Northwestern Telephone Company has been going to build all summer. It is to be hoped that there will be no further delay in constructing the lines.