

John Syvertson and family move today to their farm near McVille, where they will spend the summer. Mr. Syvertson has bought a section of improved land which he proposes to cultivate this year. He is a pioneer of Courtenay and this move looks like a farewell departure as he has his attention strongly attracted toward the west.