

10-20.

Last summer Joe Thiering of Jamestown fell on a slippery walk in that city and broke his arm. He sued the city for damages and the case came up for hearing at the present term of court and Mr. Thiering fared rather badly. There being no evidence of liability on the part of the city Mr. Thiering was obliged to pay the cost of the trial.