

Andrew Thompson was down from Kensal yesterday attending to business affairs. He was recently appointed postmaster at Kensal and will take possession of the office as soon as his bond is approved and he receives his commission, which will probably be in a short time.