

P. D. Walsh reached home yesterday morning from Texas where he had been for a few weeks looking over that country. He spent most of the time in and around Houston and is enthusiastic over the opportunities for investment there. He will dispose of his property here and will return to Texas as soon as possible. He is not only much pleased with the opportunities for investment but also the climate, which he says is delightful all the year around.