News, Nov. 15—Wm. Sandy came up from Fargo Wednesday morning.

Miss Helen More returned Tuesday morning after spending several months visiting relatives in Wisconsin.

Mrs. W. T. Simpson and daughter, Lucille, visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marks at Jamestown last week, returning home Sunday.

Ed Fellison returned from Jamestown this week where he had been to see his father who is suffering from a severe attack of small-pox. He is improving and will probably be released from quarantine next week.

A pretty marriage was solemnized at the temporal Catholic St. Boniface church on Tuesday, Nov. 12, at 9 a. m., when Adolph Clifford and Mary Blei were joined in marriage by the Rev. Father Bierens. The witnesses were Miss B. Mueller and Joseph Blei, brother of the bride. Adolph is a prosperous young farmer near Helena, N. D. We extend best wishes to the happy couple.

A deal was perfected this week whereby the European Restaurant has a change of management. Messrs. D. E. Crowley and J. J. Langness have leased the building and fixtures and have engaged competent and experienced help to conduct the active management. Business commenced under the new head Wednesday morning. The new proprietors are up-to-date business men and will give their patrons strictly first-class service. We have not learned what Mr. Belknap, the retiring proprietor, intends to do, but all hope the family will decide to make their home in Wimbledon.
