News, April 19—A. Y. More left Friday evening of last week for Mountain Home, Idaho, where he will look after his land interests for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Isley came up from Merricourt Tuesday to visit for a few days with Mrs. Isley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kline.

Mr. and Mrs. A. I. Hegge left Tuesday morning for their new home at Carrington.

N. Flagler is at Minneapolis this week visiting with the family. If the present spring-like weather continues, he will return here at an early date to look after his farming interests.

Henry LaBrash was up from Spiritwood Lake Tuesday and reports his new hotel and boat house completed. He will move his furniture in next week and everything will be in first-class shape for the opening of the fishing season—May 1st.

J. J. Reuter has gone to the Hot Springs, Mont. He expects to be there several weeks after which he will return here and later may go to Mountain Home, Idaho. If the conditions in that state are suitable to him he may decide to locate and move his family there.

Herman Hemp is again at the farm north of town, after spending the winter with the family at their beautiful home in Valley City. Mr. Hemp thinks there is no cause for alarm about the lateness of the season for spring work, and cites a few instances in former years, when the seasons were late—and we had bumper crops.

Wm. Sandy is here from Fargo this week looking after some business matters and arranging for spring work on his farms in this vicinity. "Bill" reports all well at the Metropolis—and he looks as if conditions and surroundings of the Gateway City agreed with him.

Ray Anderson recently shipped his stock and farm machinery to Glenburn, this state, where he will farm this season. Mrs. Anderson and the family left for that place Thursday morning. We are sorry to lose such good citizens from our community, but wish them abundant success in their new fields.

While at Valley City Monday, the writer met our former townsman, F. W. Wessell. Fred is now in the employ of a large contractor concern, who is making the new grade for the cut-off of the N. P. north of Valley City. Fred has a good job, that of operating a "dinky" engine." Fred wishes to be remembered to friends here, who will be glad to know that he is prospering.

Col. W. H. Mark and daughters, Mrs. F. H. Tollefson and Mrs. W. T. Simpson, left Tuesday evening for Mountain Home, Idaho, going via Valley City. The ladies expect to be away several weeks, while the "Col." will not return until the close of "the good old summer time." Their many friends here wish the party a very pleasant time.
