

LaMott Forrester, the two year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. A. Forrester, Jr., while playing near the barn Saturday got caught in a barb wire fence and was dead when his mother found him, one of the barb of the wire fence got hooked fast to the little fellow's blouse collar at the back of the neck and he had evidently fallen forward causing the collar to tighten and choke him to death. Dr. Longstreth was quickly summoned but all efforts failed to revive the little fellow. The funeral was held Monday at the German Lutheran church south of Kensal.—
Journal.