

Caught In Windmill Fan

Linton, N. D., April 5. — Attempting to stop a moving windmill by placing his foot on one of the fans Reinhold Wisbaar, a young farmer residing near this place, was caught in the huge wheel, swung around two or three times and then thrown a distance of thirty feet through the air. Falling on his stomach over the side of a water trough he was mortally injured and death followed ten hours later. His wife was the lone witness of the accident.
