The Debt Was Paid

"Refused notice." Every editor has received them, says an exchange. The postmaster sends them to the editor. For instance there is a man by the name of, well say Joe Bush, who refuses to take his paper out of the post-office. He did not want it any longer. We wondered what was the matter. Upon investigation of our subscription book we found Joe was short $5.70. He never paid a cent and yet he stopped his paper as a matter of economy to us. A few evenings ago we stepped into church, and Joe's melodious voice rang out loud and clear, "Jesus Paid It All." We might have been mistaken but his earnestness impressed us. The next day we sent him a receipt in full, begging his pardon for not knowing that he had made an assignment of his indebtedness to the Lord.
