

long and nappy hair, etc.

John Bond had the misfortune to break his leg just above the ankle last Sunday afternoon. He was driving home several horses and the one on which he was riding stumbled in such a manner as to turn a complete somersault falling on Mr. Bond's leg and breaking it. Medical aid was given him here as soon as possible but the fracture being of very serious nature it was thought advisable by his friends and relatives to send him to a Fargo hospital.

---