

Dan Clark, a son of W. P. Clark Sr., was brought here from Melville, Monday, suffering from a serious case of typhoid fever. A room was prepared for him by his father and with the best of care and medical attendance hopes are entertained for his ultimate recovery.